Irish fiddler Sean Maguire learned this by ear and assumed it to be a traditional tune. Sean was a character. Not always one to be concerned with historical accuracy, he told one audience that it was composed by O'Carolan. No doubt Jerry took it as a compliment.

Jerry learned the variations from a recording of Cape Breton fiddler Joe MacLean. Kerr's (Vol. 1), gives a 3 turn setting (A, B & E). Highland pipers sometimes call it The Rose Among the Heather (a title more commonly associated with a famous Irish jig).

D.S.

Dougie MacDonald is a well known Cape Breton fiddler, composer and recording artist. This tune he often played with his cousin, Howie MacDonald. Ciaran Tourish is an Irish fiddler originally from Buncrana, Co. Donegal. He visited Cape Breton in the '80s and later joined the well known group, Altan.
